

Example voting card question

- Which of the following statements is “most true”:
 - A) A hotdog is a sandwich.
 - B) The .gif file format is pronounced jiff, like the peanut butter.
 - C) Water can never actually be wet.
 - D) Tomatoes are actually fruits, so ketchup is actually a jam.
 - E) I have no idea what is happening. Am I in the wrong class?

Participation

- I use the cards to understand if I've done a good job explaining a concept or not, and to spark discussion. Please bring them to class every day.
- I grade the class on their participation during votes, NOT whether or not they are correct.
- Voting all 4 colors/letters is a legitimate vote -- it represents "I don't know" and it is totally fine to vote this.
- If a question has an "E" option, turn your card to a white/blank face.
- We will vote on the count of 3, and everyone must keep their vote private ahead of the vote.
